

Mrs. Vincent Astor and a view of the famous Astor town house, 840 5th avenue, New York, where she will give a series of elaborate entertainments during the coming season.
(Copyright, 1916, International Film.)

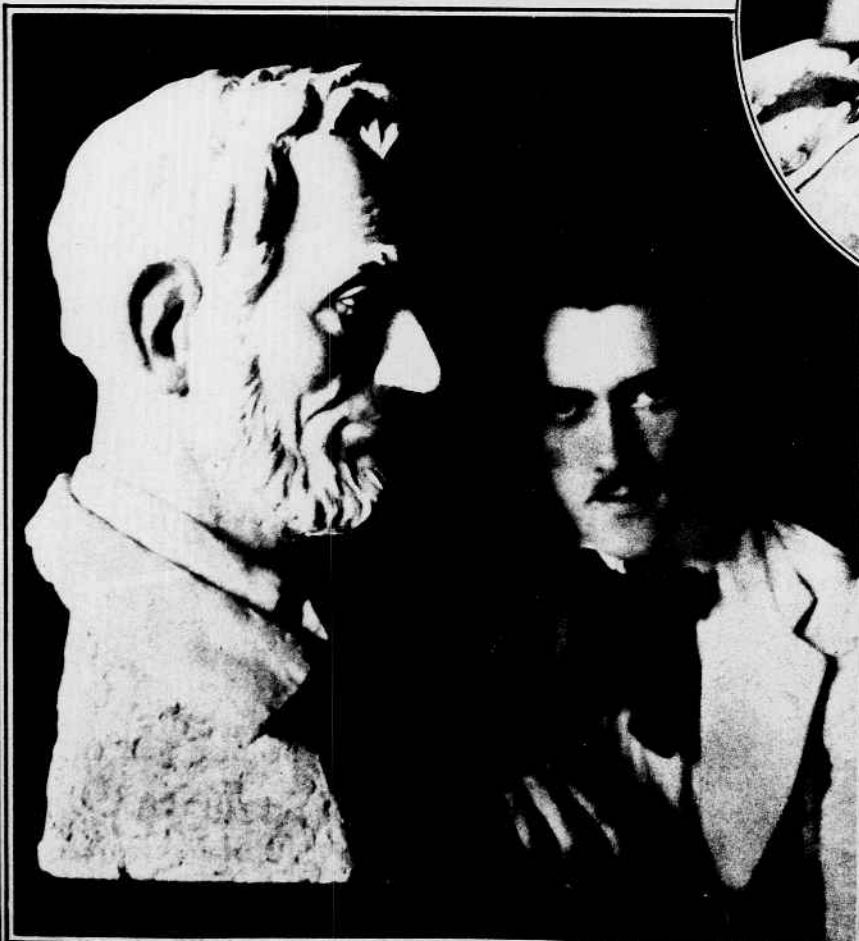

Mrs. Carolina Thrash Dorsett, model for Paul Bartlett's figure of Industry in his statuary allegorical of people of the American nation recently unveiled over the east front of the south wing of the Capitol.
Buck Photo

Audrey Munson in "Purity."

Scene from the film play, "The Quest of Life" featuring Maurice and Florence Walton.

J. Anthony Atchison, the young Washington sculptor, and his bust of Lincoln, which is being considered for one of the government libraries.

War baby adopted by Mrs. Richard Elkins, daughter-in-law of the late Senator Stephen B. Elkins. The baby is the son of French parents. The father was killed in the fighting at Flanders and the mother died shortly after its birth.

First prize in lawn contest conducted by the Columbia Heights Citizens' Association. Residence of Representative James T. Lloyd, 3505 16th Street.